1. Review the structure and competitiveness of the Company's compensation programs for senior executives, includbage salaries and annual, intermediate and long-term incentives, whether cashequity-based; and considering the following factors: (a) the traction and reteint of senior executives; (b) the motivation of senior executives to achieve the Company's business objectives; and (c) the alignment of the interests of

- C. The Committee shall have the sole authorityettain, terminate, or approve the fees and other retention terms of any consultaettained to assist in evaluating the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, senior executives, or Directors. At the direction of the Committee, the Companyalshpay to any compensation consultant retained by the Committee such compensationcluding, without initation, usual and customary expenses and chargesshads be approved by the Committee;
- D. The Committee will have the resources and authority necessary to discharge its duties and responsibilities. The Committee has the authority to retain special legal, accounting, tax, compensation or other cultiants (collectively referred to as "Advisor") to advise the Committee omatters over which the Committee has authority. At the direction of the Committeethe Company shall pay to any advisor retained by the Committee such compensatincluding, without finitation, usual and customary expenses and charges, shall be approved by the Committee. The Committee may delegate to a subcommittee of the Chief Executive Officer or other officer of the Company such of its duties of responsibilities as Committee deems to be in the best interest the Company, provided suche legation is not prohibited by law, regulation or the New Yor to the Executing standards.

IV. Meetings and Reports to the Board of Directors

The Committee will meet as frequitly as it deems necessary appropriate to carry out its duties and responsibilities. The Committee will be werned by the same rules regarding meetings, action without meetings, notice, waiver of no

VII. Amendment

The Board shall have the sole authority to amend this charter.